The Blood Orange Infoshop is a collective of artists and activists who believe in the transformative potential of Do-It-Yourself culture and radical political intervention.

We collaborate to provide an all ages, non-commercial space for art exhibits, performances, and free education.

BOIS is committed to organizing a public venue that is non-hierarchical, drug and alcohol free, all ages, inclusive, and free of oppression.

Consensus Policy

Blood Orange Infoshop practices collaboration and consensus create a space for non-hierarchical strategies to discourse and organizing. We recognize we are enacting the kind of worlds we'd like to live in with our words, our social interaction, our organizing styles, and our events.

Silly Brg!
Consensus lends a voice
to all who come together!

ASSIMILATE NOW
MUST CONFORM

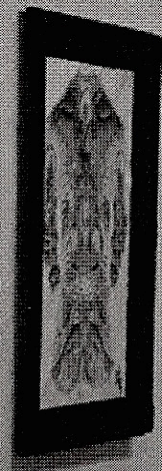

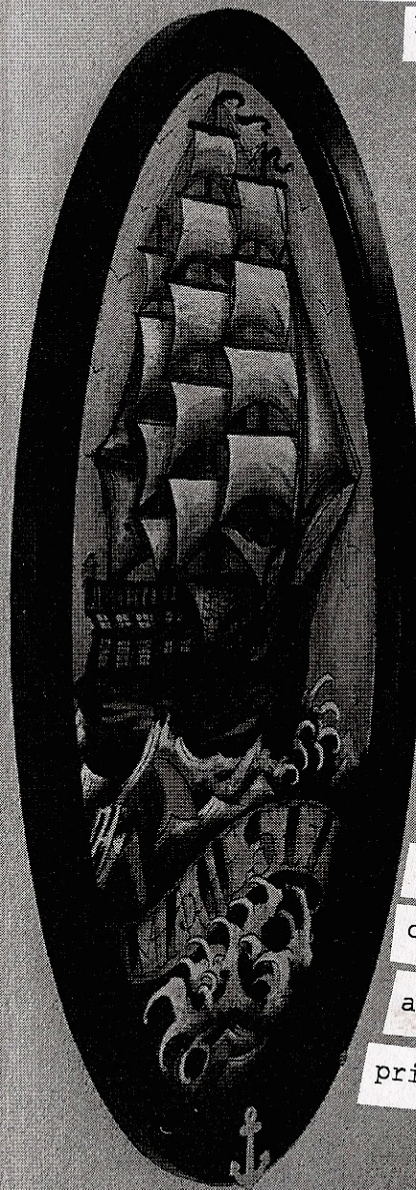

We hope to nurture dissent and individual voice while maintaining a safe space for all to participate.

Art Policy

Join us every first Thursday of the month for our gallery opening during Riverside Arts Walk.

If you would like to show art at BOIS, contact a member of the collective and arrange to share your portfolio privately or at a general meeting.

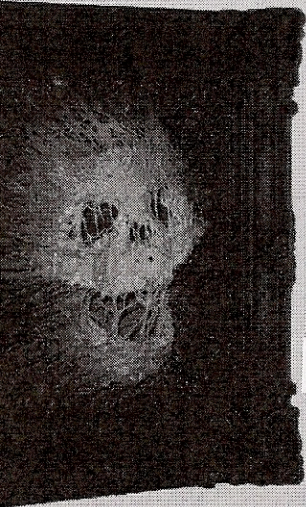

Most of our galleries are up for one month.

Event Policy

BOIS is a non-commercial space for radical politics and art. To propose your event, please attend a BOIS General Meeting.

General Meetings are every Sunday at 4pm.

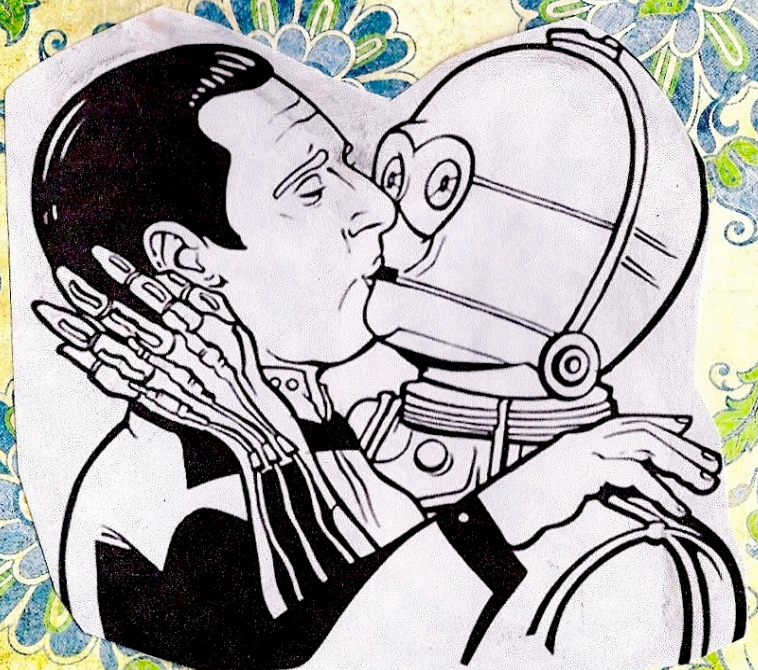

We organize non-hierarchically, which means we all have a say in what kinds of events we host. Attending a meeting will help you connect with the collective and find the resources you need to organize your event. Shows must be all-ages.

We will cultivate an environment that is inclusive, safe, and free of oppression. No alcohol or drugs.

No exceptions.

BOIS aims to be a safe space that is both a collective and community process. What do we mean by BOIS is a safe space? We will not tolerate any statements, actions or merchandise that are considered hateful towards a particular race, ethnicity, sex, gender identity, sexuality, age, citizenship, languages spoken, education, class, or mental or physical ability that makes any attendee, staff member, or guests feel uncomfortable.
